

Dear Students and Colleagues,

Compulsory COVID-19 test for domestic helpers does NOT affect campus access

The Government announced last Friday that all domestic helpers in Hong Kong are required to carry out COVID-19 test. Over the weekend we have received enquiries concerning campus access for persons who share the same households with domestic helpers.

We would like to clarify that since it is a precautionary test for a specified occupation, access to campus for persons residing in the same household as the domestic helper will NOT be banned. You may also wish to refer to the last question in the Health Declaration.

Thank you and wish you all good health.
